Show season continues for British Garden Centres at BBC Gardeners' World Autumn Fair

Following this year's success at BBC Gardeners' World Live in June, British Garden Centres will be exhibiting at the BBC Gardeners World Autumn Fair to be held in Hampshire on 1-3 September 2023.

Visitors will be able to browse and purchase a variety of high-quality plants from the British Garden Centres stand. Whether you are searching for the perfect autumn bloom to grace your garden, a dazzling display of perennials, or a variety of lush foliage plants to create an urban oasis, the team on the British Garden Centres stand will have everything you need.

The largest family-run garden centre group will have knowledgeable staff on hand who are passionate about sharing their expertise with fellow gardeners. They will be on hand to answer questions, offer guidance, and provide personalised recommendations based on your specific garden needs.

You will have the opportunity to sign up for the British Garden Centres Family Card at each show. This exclusive membership offers a range of benefits, including access to discounts and special offers on plants, tools, and garden accessories.

BBC Gardeners World Autumn Fair, in association with English Heritage, takes place at Audley End House in Saffron Walden, Essex from 1 – 3 September with seasonal garden inspiration and plants, expert advice, shopping and entertainment. Gardeners will enjoy seasonal gardening inspiration from the Beautiful Borders display and Showcase Gardens, and the show will also feature talks from BBC Two Gardeners' World TV presenters, Frances Tophill (Friday), Arit Anderson (Saturday) and Adam Frost (Sunday).
